In the ever-changing world of technology, Laborers' Local 60 is always looking for better, easier, faster, and more efficient ways to connect and communicate with members. As a part of this effort, the Union would like to send members emails and text messages. In order to contact you, the Union requires your written consent to send messages.

By providing your email and phone number, you confirm your consent to receive messages from the Union and its affiliates, including any autodialed call, text message or email, about important matters, including your contract, benefits, Union operations, political and legislative matters. You can opt-out at any time.

If the Union does not receive a completed authorization form, it will not be permitted to send you messages via email and phone.
